What is the difference between a credit course and a Continuing education course?

- Credit courses are generally taken as part of a degree program and provide college credits.
- Noncredit courses are offered to provide a purposeful and systematic process of acquiring and recording lifetime learning for individuals who are not enrolled in a formally structured curriculum.
- Noncredit courses provide Continuing Education Units (CEUs).