

Ongoing Prevention and Awareness Programs for Dating Violence, Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault, and Stalking

Program Title	Description	Sponsored By	How Often the Program is Offered	Where to Find Additional Information and/or a Current Schedule of Events
Bystander Intervention Video Series	The I Got Your Back (IGYB) Bystander Intervention Committee has created two (2) videos on bystander awareness and intervention titled Episode 1: Have a Heart and Episode 2: Empowered Bystanders . These videos aim to encourage students to become active bystanders and speak up or step in to stop a potentially dangerous situation.	I Got Your Back (IGYB) Bystander Intervention Committee	Available to Collin College students, faculty, staff, and community members on a continual basis.	Visit the Bystander Intervention website .
Counseling Services Office Presentations and Seminars	Periodically throughout each academic year, Counseling Services Office staff provide presentations and seminars on a variety of issues. Topics covered include, but are not limited to, healthy relationships, mental health and wellness, risk reduction strategies, and self-care.	Counseling Services Office	Multiple times per semester at each of Collin College's campuses and centers.	Call 972.881.5126 or visit the Mental Health Counseling website .
Healthy Relationships Canvas Module Educational Project Experience (EPE)	This online module may be issued by the District Dean of Students Office as part of the disciplinary penalty for students found responsible for an allegation of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. The Healthy Relationships Canvas Module gives an overview of healthy personal relationships, including information on the: 1. Differences between healthy and unhealthy relationships; 2. Premises and building blocks of a healthy relationship; 3. Respect, honesty, trust, and open communication in relationships; 4. Importance of seeking appropriate resources and assistance if students are in an unhealthy relationship; and 5. Contact information if additional information or assistance is needed.	District Dean of Students Office	On an as-needed basis.	Call 972.881.5604 or email dos@collin.edu .

Program Title	Description	Sponsored By	How Often the Program is Offered	Where to Find Additional Information and/or a Current Schedule of Events
Healthy Relationships Seminar Educational Project Experience (EPE)	This one (1)-hour seminar may be issued by the District Dean of Students Office as part of the disciplinary penalty for students found responsible for an allegation of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. This seminar is facilitated by the District Dean of Students Office staff and is not a mandated counseling session. This seminar can be tailored to address the reasons an individual student was brought in for disciplinary action. Topics covered include, but are not limited to: 1. The characteristics of healthy relationships, 2. Effective communication in relationships, and 3. The benefits of change and motivations for change.	District Dean of Students Office	On an as-needed basis.	Call 972.881.5604 or email dos@collin.edu .
I Got Your Back (IGYB) Bystander Intervention	Collin College's I Got Your Back (IGYB) Bystander Intervention program is an educational campaign to inform the entire Collin College community about the importance of bystander intervention and how to improve it. IGYB's purpose is to raise awareness, educate individuals on their roles as bystanders, and make Collin College a safer community for students, faculty, and staff. IGYB aims to teach everyone to be an active, effective bystander.	I Got Your Back (IGYB) Bystander Intervention Committee	At least one (1) time per semester at each of Collin College's campuses and centers.	Visit the Bystander Intervention website .

Program Title	Description	Sponsored By	How Often the Program is Offered	Where to Find Additional Information and/or a Current Schedule of Events
RespectEdu Preventing Harassment and Discrimination Online Training for Faculty and Staff	This online training equips faculty and staff with essential tools to identify, prevent, and address workplace harassment. Through engaging narratives and real-world scenarios, this comprehensive course demonstrates how various forms of harassment impact individuals and institutions, while clarifying the rights and responsibilities of all employees in creating a safe, respectful workplace. Participants explore sexual harassment, workplace bullying, bystander intervention, and protection against retaliation through memorable case studies that illustrate the personal, professional, and institutional consequences of misconduct. This learning experience emphasizes the critical role of proactive reporting and intervention – even when the type of misconduct is unclear – while providing practical tools for fostering a positive workplace culture.	Training and Development Department	Must be completed by each Collin College employee every September.	Email traininganddevelopment@collin.edu .
RespectEdu Title IX and Clery Act Online Training for Faculty and Staff	This online training is designed to equip faculty and staff with the knowledge and confidence to act in accordance with Title IX and The Clery Act. It explores the legal foundations, reporting obligations, and practical approaches to creating a safer campus environment. Through immersive scenarios, practical examples, and a serialized case study, employees explore how to navigate their reporting responsibilities with clarity, respond to disclosures with empathy and professionalism, help prevent retaliation, and reinforce a culture of respect.	Training and Development Department	Must be completed by each Collin College employee every September.	Email traininganddevelopment@collin.edu .

Program Title	Description	Sponsored By	How Often the Program is Offered	Where to Find Additional Information and/or a Current Schedule of Events
Sexual Misconduct and Relationship Violence Training	Periodically throughout each academic year, District Dean of Students Office staff members provide presentations and training sessions on sexual misconduct, relationship violence, and related topics. These presentations and training sessions are intended to inform Collin College students, faculty, and staff about the Clery Act, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX), as amended May 19, 2020, the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), and how the provisions of these laws affect them. Topics covered include, but are not limited to: 1. Bystander intervention, 2. Campus and community resource, 3. Collin College's policies and procedures, 4. Consent to sexual activity, 5. Dating violence, 6. Domestic violence, 7. Reporting procedures, 8. Risk reduction strategies, 9. Sexual assault, 10. Stalking, and 11. Tips on how to stay safe and prevent prohibited conduct.	District Dean of Students Office	Multiple times per semester at each of Collin College's campuses and centers.	Call 972.881.5604 or email dos@collin.edu .

Program Title	Description	Sponsored By	How Often the Program is Offered	Where to Find Additional Information and/or a Current Schedule of Events
The Dignity Initiative	The Dignity Initiative is a districtwide effort to educate the campus community about gender-based violence and to empower community members with specific actions to end gender-based violence. The Dignity Initiative envisions a future in which everyone is treated with respect and honored as valuable members of cultures around the world. The Dignity Initiative was developed in December of 2013 and launched in August of 2014. Every fall and spring semester, Dignity Initiative programming is included at different campuses to address the needs of the Collin College community.	The Dignity Initiative Committee	Multiple times per semester at each of Collin College's campuses and centers.	Visit The Dignity Initiative website .
Title IX at Collin College Website	To make it easier for Collin College students, faculty, staff, and other interested parties to access information, procedures, and various resources related to dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking, the Title IX coordinators and deputy Title IX coordinators have created a website titled "Title IX at Collin College." This website contains the most accurate, up-to-date information on: 1. The federal Title IX regulations; 2. State and federal laws governing these issues; 3. Collin College's policies and procedures; 4. Definitions of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and consent to sexual activity; 5. Procedures victims should follow; 6. Reporting procedures; and 7. Campus and community resources.	Title IX Coordinators and Deputy Title IX Coordinators	Available to Collin College students, faculty, staff, and community members on a continual basis.	Visit the Title IX at Collin College website .

Program Title	Description	Sponsored By	How Often the Program is Offered	Where to Find Additional Information and/or a Current Schedule of Events
Understanding Boundaries Seminar Educational Project Experience (EPE)	This one (1)-hour seminar may be issued by the District Dean of Students Office as part of the disciplinary penalty for students found responsible for an allegation of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault; or stalking. This seminar is facilitated by the District Dean of Students Office staff and is not a mandated counseling session. This seminar can be tailored to address the reasons an individual student was brought in for disciplinary action. Topics covered include, but are not limited to: 1. The importance of respecting boundaries in personal and professional relationships and 2. Creating appropriate boundaries with others. An optional Consent Toolkit is also included that may be incorporated into the EPE at the discretion of the facilitator and/or at the direction of the district dean of students or designee.	District Dean of Students Office	On an as-needed basis.	Call 972.881.5604 or email dos@collin.edu .
Vector Solutions Protecting Youth: Abuse and Neglect Prevention Online Training for Summer Camp Workers	This mandatory online training for summer camp workers is intended to assist these staff members with recognizing the signs of child abuse and neglect and understanding reporting requirements.	Training and Development Department	Must be completed by every Collin College summer camp worker annually.	Email traininganddevelopment@collin.edu .